Here are two best practices actively conducted by Coordinator Centre for Women's Studies and Research, University of Kashmir:

1. Empowering Women Entrepreneurs through Exhibition Platforms:

One of the active practices initiated by the Coordinator at the Center for World Studies and Research (CWSR) is providing a platform for women entrepreneurs to showcase their products at exhibitions organized by CWSR. These exhibitions serve as a significant avenue for female entrepreneurs to exhibit their creations, innovations, and products to a wider audience. By actively encouraging and facilitating their participation, CWSR aims to promote gender equality and empower women in entrepreneurship. This initiative not only provides visibility to women entrepreneurs but also fosters networking opportunities, collaborations, and potential business growth.

2. Skill Development Programs in Collaboration with Private Companies/NGO's:

Another proactive practice led by the Coordinator at CWSR involves collaborating with private companies/NGO's to offer skill development programs. These programs are designed to equip individuals with the necessary job skills demanded by the industry. Through partnerships with reputed private companies and NGO's, CWSR organizes training sessions, workshops, and courses tailored to address specific industry needs. Furthermore, these collaborations often extend to providing job opportunities for participants upon successful completion of the training programs. By bridging the gap between skill development and employment, CWSR contributes to workforce enhancement and facilitates employment opportunities for individuals across various sectors.
